OPERATIONAL GUIDE

Ship Arrival & Departure Procedures in Libyan Ports

A practical reference for ship owners, charterers and masters calling at Libyan ports — pre-arrival documentation, arrival signalling, berthing, and port restrictions.

01 Pre-Arrival Requirements

Appoint a Local Agent

Before arriving at a Libyan port, ships must appoint a local shipping agent to facilitate communication and compliance with local regulations.

Document Submission 24H BEFORE ETA

The ship owner or agent must submit the following to port management at least 24 hours prior to the Estimated Time of Arrival:

- Completed and signed Forms 1–11
- Copy of Bills of Lading and Cargo Manifest, including the weight and volume of the cargo

Copies of the following certificates:

- International Ship and Port Facility Security (ISPS) Code Certificate
- Radio Safety Certificate
- Classification Society Certificate
- International Load Line Certificate
- International Safety Management (ISM) Code Certificate
- Minimum Safe Manning Certificate
- Ship Sanitation Control Certificate
- Latest Port State Control (PSC) Inspection Report
- Ship Registry Certificate
- Safety Equipment Certificate
- International Oil Pollution Prevention (IOPP) Certificate
- International Tonnage Certificate
- Document of Compliance (DOC)
- Insurance Certificate
- Medical Store List

02 On-Board Required Ship Documents

- Certificate of Registry and Tonnage
- International Shipping Certificate
- International Certificate for the Safety of Life at Sea (SOLAS)
- Crew List (including nationalities)
- Cargo Manifest
- Load Line Certificate
- Passenger Transport Certificate
- Radio and Telex Safety Certificate
- Passenger Manifest (signed-on and signed-off)

03 Arrival Procedures

VHF Channel 16

Before entering Libyan territorial waters, the ship must contact port control on VHF Channel 16.

Signalling on Approach

Upon approaching the anchorage, the ship must display the following signals:

- Call sign
- Quarantine flag
- Ship's flag at the stern
- Libyan flag at the bow
- Red flag during the day and red light at night (if carrying explosives or flammable materials)
- Pilot request signal

Pilot Boarding

The ship must not enter the entrance channel until the pilot has boarded.

Health Declaration

If the master suspects any infectious disease on board, or if the ship has come from a port affected by a pandemic, they must immediately inform the quarantine or port authority upon arrival.

04 Berthing & Sailing Procedures

> Master's Responsibilities: The master must be on the bridge during arrival, departure, and while the ship is berthed, and must comply with all local and international laws.

Berthing Priority

Berthing priority is generally given to the first ship to arrive, with the following order of preference:

- Passenger vessels
- Livestock carriers
- Liner vessels
- General cargo vessels
- Tankers

- Port Management Authority: assigns the berth and may relocate the ship for operational efficiency.
- Anchorage: ships without a suitable berth may anchor, but must not move without port authority permission.
- Shifting Berth: ships cannot shift berths without port authority permission; the master is responsible for ensuring the new berth's suitability.
- Compulsory Tug Assistance: mandatory for entering or leaving port through tunnels or during shifting operations.
- Pilot Services: a pilot is mandatory for entering or leaving port.
- Navigation Responsibility: even with a pilot on board, the master remains responsible for the ship's navigation.
- Liability: the ship owner is liable for any damage caused, even if the pilot was at fault.
- Pilot Fees: must be paid even if the entry or departure is cancelled.
- Cargo Manifest: must include weight and volume in cubic metres; a copy must be submitted to the agent 24 hours before arrival.

05 Restrictions & Interdictions

- Repairs and Maintenance: no repairs or maintenance may be carried out without port authority permission.
- Chimney Cleaning: prohibited while in port.
- Lighting: no lights may be altered without port authority permission.
- Waste Disposal: discharging waste — including oil, chemicals or garbage — into the port or territorial waters is strictly prohibited.
- Currency and Personal Items: currency, cigarettes and alcohol must be declared.
- Prohibited Activities: prostitution, possession of alcohol (except sealed and stored), and unauthorised photography are strictly prohibited.
- Ship-to-Ship Visits: require customs and immigration approval.
